Purveyor of deep,
infectious grooves
and a feel-good
atmosphere

Never afraid to go too deep or to take an out of left field detour, his emotive musical selections are his own therapy. Having grown up on his parent's eclectic combination of funk music (George Clinton, James Brown, Sly Stone), Soul/R&B (Stevie Wonder, Curtis Mayfield, Earth Wind and Fire), synth-infused 80s music (Prince) and World Music (Fela Kuti, Bob Marley, Rob Way, Sun Ra) ... all which became infused with his own love for both hip-hop and tv theme song music, Greg ended up with quite a mixed spectrum of musical influence. Today, this translates into sets where he blends together all the pieces of this music that he loves best: beautiful synth work, ethereal backdrops, funky basslines, and the occasional ratchet/trap vocal.

Though he loves playing in nightclubs, patios and special events, his love for music goes beyond the spectrum of mixing tunes. As a talented home cook and promoter, he has found plenty of ways to express himself artistically. With his "#FEELGOOD" movement collaborates with local chefs, DJ's and mixologist to create #Feelgood events where people of all backgrounds come together with the goal of dancing and having a good time .

"For me, it's all about taking the party on a trip or a ride. It's about zoning out and getting into a deep groove... playing those songs that get you tapping your feet and bobbing your head without you realizing it, regardless of genre, tempo, style, or you ever having heard the track before. "
